Let's Admit It

The 43rd Regatta is now part of history and is there anyone who saw it who is not convinced that it is Canada's greatest water show?

For some years now Kelowna has been modestly claiming that its Regatta is "the biggest water show west of the Great Lakes." If that description fitted at one time, it has now long since been outgrown. The fact is there is no other water show staged yearly in Canada which is a greater show than that right down in Kelowna's own City Park. If anyone has any other ideas, let's hear the name of the city, big or small, and we'll take a look at it, but we doubt our statement can be challenged.

Right from the opening gun to the final burst of sky-rockets, the 43rd Regatta was a high calibre, a big time show. It ran like clockwork. The races between the country's best swimmers representing 32 clubs in this country and the United States were in many cases literally breath-taking, so keen were they. The specialty and feature events were amusing or thrilling. There was beauty, fun and thrills on every hand and had we paid twice the money in some other city would have come away thinking that we had seen a marvellous show. We did; but in cold, matter-of-fact Kelowna we do not readily admit it.

On Tuesday night, following only the first day's events, a Toronto swimming coach wired home to the president of his club "You should see this Regatta! It's out of this world." That was the impression of an experienced outsider. His telegram but reflected the words of many others.

In no department does our Regatta fail to measure up to the claim "Canada's Greatest Water Show." It's time we realized that and started to take pride in the fact, and to take advantage of it. Let's from this point on forget that "west of the Great Lakes" business and give our show its proper sub-title. In other words let's realize that what started out as a backyard show can no longer be kept that way. Whether we like it or not, the 43rd definitely moved our show into the big time. We have the responsibility of keeping it there.

World Calendar

From time to time throughout the past decade this newspaper has supported the suggestion that there should be a general adoption of the so-called "world calendar" which would stabilize the dates of the countries of the world and bring with it many advantages. This suggestion is now in the provisional agenda of the forthcoming General Assembly of the United Nations in September and it is to be hoped that it will become a subject for discussion of the social, cultural and humanitarian committee. If this committee should approve, it would go to the floor of the assembly for a final vote. A two-thirds majority is required both in the committee and the assembly.

The adoption of the proposed world calendar would require only five one-day changes in the present calendar and the use of one or two stabilizing days to convert the present irregular hodge-podge into an orderly, stable vehicle for the measurement of time. It could be put into effect with little or no confusion.

There are none who will dispute the statement that the present calendar brings confusion and inconvenience to our modern life, confusion which is costly to government, to business and to individuals of all classes of society.

On the other hand, the suggested world calendar presents certain definite advantages. These include: (1) the days and the date would always agree from year to year; (2) each month would have 26 week days plus Sundays; (3) each month would have the same day arrangement each year; (4) there would be only three kinds of months, one of which would go into the make up of every quarter; (5) each quarter would have three months or 13 weeks making up 91 days; (6) each year and each quarter would begin with a Sunday and each quarter would end with a Saturday; (7) the week would keep the familiar order of days beginning with a Sunday; (8) holidays and anniversaries are established on their regular days and dates.

Each year there would be one day which did not belong to any month. This would be "year-end" day and would be a holiday inserted between December 31st and January 1st. Every four years there would be a similar "leap-year day" and this would be inserted after June 30th and would be a holiday, also.

The calendar at first glance would appear to be confusing, but what innovation does not? Even a casual study of the calendar demonstrates that it would be simple to put into operation and would be of inestimable value to all persons. About the only persons adversely affected, as far as can be seen, would be the calendar manufacturing houses. With the world calendar in use, there would be no need to have a new calendar each year.

Canada under the guidance of Sir Sanford Fleming led the world in establishing standard time zones. Why shouldn't this country take the lead in rationalizing the year? The present calendar brings nothing but perpetual confusion, disorder, discord and unbalance; the proposed world calendar would give us order, harmony, balance and stability, in at least as far as the year time element is concerned, throughout the world.

Regatta Highlights

From far and near, crowds flocked to Kelowna's 43rd annual Regatta, jamming the grandstand and bleachers alike during the four Regatta performances. Tuesday afternoon saw the official opening of Regatta festivities with an exciting show packed with swimming events starring Canadian champions, rowing and water canoe races, diving exhibitions and colorful pageantry.

Visitors from Vancouver, Edmonton, Saskatchewan, Osoyoos, and Summerland were one in their acclamation of the Regatta. Descriptions of wonderful, sensational, beautiful filled the air as enthusiastic praise was given not only the contestants and the magnificent setting, but to the people of Kelowna as a whole who contributed in making the show a success.

The Kelowna stores and business premises went to town on the decorations. There was nothing elaborate but it was colorful and new.

that Kelowna's "reserve" has been broken down, perhaps the town will not look entirely dead when the Regatta is over. (Turn to Page 8, Story 4)

Kelowna, British Columbia, Thursday, August 4, 1949

1950 Lady-of-The-Lake

Two girls who will preside over the 1950 Kelowna Regatta are included in the group of Okanagan beauties seen in the above picture. Sponsored by the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lady-of-the-Lake Regatta was one of the highlights of the 43rd annual Regatta.

third member of the royal triad. The Courier camera snapped this picture more than a week ago, when only five girls entered the contest. Before the pageant got underway, there were a total of 24 entries. (See story elsewhere in today's issue.)

Kelowna Girl, Jean Ross Chosen Lady-of-The-Lake Before Capacity Audience

DARK, vivacious Jean Ross is the 1950 Lady-of-the-Lake. The 17-year-old Kelowna girl, carrying the colors of "Miss Labor," was chosen over 23 other girls in one of the most outstanding pageants ever presented to Regatta fans.

The setting for the outdoor show was spectacular. Designed and created by the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, details of the float were kept secret by the Jaycees, and as Hollywood's famous comedian, Bill Thompson, stated—"We could do with a few of these fellows in Hollywood."

A capacity audience witnessed the Tuesday night show, and judges had a tough time picking the new Lady-of-the-Lake and her two princesses, Joyce Reinbold, "Miss Gyo," and Alana Bertelson, "Miss Vernon" Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Commencing shortly after sunset with the Vancouver Firemen's Band playing a soft arrangement of Hoagy Carmichael's famed "Stardust," the evening performance featured local talent with the exception of Miss Margaret Hutton, North American ornamental swimming champion.

Organ Music
While a smooth working team of ushers in crisp white and sport red-banded usherte labels on their white caps relayed the guests to their seats, William Brooks quietly set the mood with favorite melodies on the Hammond organ.

The sun had just set in a clear sky when an R.C.A.F. Canso flew overhead putting on a display of pyrotechnics. The flare drifted backward as the program started underway.

Searchlights, trained on the float, spotlighted ten water nymphs clad alike in snow white bathing suits and caps. Under the expert direction and tuition of Belinda Taylor, the nine girls drifted easily through the water in a rhythmic water ballet to background music (Turn to Page 16, Story 3)

NEW PRINCIPAL

New principal of the Kelowna Junior High School is Fred T. Buncie. For the past few years post of principal for Junior and senior high school has been combined under W. J. Logie. Mr. Logie takes over as head of the new $400,000 senior high school when it opens at the start of the 1949-50 school term. Mr. Buncie has been teaching in Kelowna since 1944.

STRIKE LOOMS IN OKANAGAN PACKINGHOUSES

A strike vote will be taken by 2,500 members of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers starting next Monday, William Sands, secretary of the union, stated this morning.

The vote, which will be taken under the supervision of William Fraser, senior conciliation officer of the Labor Relations Board, will start at Osoyoos on August 8, and will work northward, ending in Vernon August 12. Nine out of the 11 union locals are affected, two branches, Revelstoke and Summerland, being under different contracts.

Negotiations between the union and the Industry Labor Negotiating committee, broke down a week ago, when no settlement could be reached on the new working agreement. Robert Forgie, a member of the Labor Relations Board is here setting up strike-vote machinery.

The packinghouse workers will be asked "Are you willing to strike unless your union, as a bargaining agency, can conclude an agreement which will protect your wages and working conditions?"

Main points in dispute according to Mr. Sands, are union security, seniority, holidays with pay, hours of work and overtime, and wage classifications.

If union members vote in favor of a strike, the entire fruit industry will be tied up during the height of the packing season.

Vancouver's Mayor C. E. Thompson Sets Aside Special Day For Local People Who Can Attend Exhibition

A SPECIAL day will be set aside for Kelowna during the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver's Mayor Charles E. Thompson promised here Wednesday evening.

"Everyone who had anything to do with making this Regatta the success it is, is invited to Vancouver during the P.N.E.," said the 1949 Regatta Commodore, during the Kelowna Board of Trade banquet at the Royal Anne Hotel Wednesday evening. "I will set aside a special day for Kelowna," he promised, "and I hereby invite you good Kelowna people to be on hand." "May I see you in Vancouver very soon," he concluded.

Occasion was the annual traditional spread put on by the Kelowna Board of Trade for the male competitors, and guests during the annual Kelowna Regattas. Mayor Thompson's address was one of the highlights of the yearly do, chairmanned this year by Fred Gibson, president.

Later on during the program of the Kelowna Aquatic Association, announced during the dinner that plans have been all but concluded for building new aquatic buildings. There is no doubt but that this is the greatest Regatta in Kelowna's history," he said as he officially welcomed guests from as far as Quebec province to Victoria and Ocean Falls.

Speaking directly to the competitors, George H. Baillie, vice-president of the Kelowna Aquatic Association, said: "How about putting the Canadian flag at the top of the mast? ... It's most important for you to win for Canada."

"I hope somebody in this room is going to bring back from the New Zealand Empire Games something Canada will be proud of."

Singling out Percy Norman, well-known Vancouver swimmer, well-known to Kelowna, he said: (Turn to Page 16, Story 6)

GLENMORE MAN HEAVILY FINED FOR RETAINING

Arthur Schramm, Glenmore grocer, was sentenced to one day's imprisonment and fined $200 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving goods stolen from the Summerland Groceries last August.

New Civic Airfield Is Opened

Over 10,000 People Witness Ceremony Performed by Mayor W. Hughes-Games

3,500 CARS

Nine-Mile Stretch of Highway Choked with Cars Going to Ellison Field

More than 3,500 cars, carrying approximately 10,000 people, choked roads Monday night as Kelowna's new civic airport was officially opened by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games. Opening of the $400,000 field was the culmination of 20 years of hard work by the city and business leaders.

While thousands of people craned necks to watch the mayor "buzzed" the airport in a plane flown by Andy Anderson, of Okanagan Air Services, before landing to cut a silk ribbon and formally open the field.

Many people, however, failed to see the airshow. Cars were locked bumper to bumper along the nine-mile stretch, and long before the parade started from the Board of Trade office at 6:30 p.m., autos were parked four deep up the main street. Board of Trade expected possibly 1,000 cars to be parked nearby. But another 2,500 turned up to crowd surrounding fields and park even in ditches.

Canadian Pacific Airlines paid tribute to the new field by sending in the first "heavy" plane to land on the 3,000 foot runway.

For Marion Patterson and Robert Goldie, it was like coming "home" again. Daughter of Mr. Patterson, the former manager, and Mrs. Goldie, a former manager, joined CPA one month ago as a stewardess. Pilot was Bob Goldie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Goldie, Okanagan Mission. The other stewardess was Evelyn Mermot, Victoria, who has been with CPA 18 months.

Mayor Hughes-Games praised pioneers who first began working for an airport for this thriving city. Among them were Dave Chapman, D. C. Patterson, former manager, and Bob Willis, real estate broker. Alderman Jack Horn, during the last year or so, has done a great deal of spadework leading to the opening of the airfield.

Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, one of Western Canada's pioneer fliers, now with CPA, predicted his firm will establish an interior air route through Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna to connect with regular flights to Vancouver.

RUTLAND MAN GIVEN 10-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

Sequel to a Saturday evening collision near the Bernard-Elis intersection, came in city police court Monday when Leonard Haynes, Rutland, pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and was jailed for 10 days.

OSOYOOS GIRL HOLDS WINNING RAFFLE TICKET

Miss Lucy Lipka, of Osoyoos, was the lucky ticket holder for the electric kitchen which was raffled by the Kelowna Aquatic Association.

Miss Lipka, who is in her early 20's, purchased the ticket No. 39, 618 when she attended Tuesday's performance, and is returning to Kelowna this afternoon to pick up the prize.

1950 Lady-of-the-Lake, Miss Jean Ross, drew the ticket after being escorted to a platform in the Memorial Arena by Mayor Charles E. Thompson, of Vancouver, the Regatta Commodore, Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games accompanied the official party. Draw was made at 1 o'clock this morning.

Approximately 22,000 tickets were sold, according to Lorne McKee, who along with Wally Melkie, was in charge of the raffle.

"We hope to clear sufficient money to purchase 4,500 bags of cement for the new Aquatic grandstand."

Strong and Salmon Take Major Swim Awards

THE curtain came down on Kelowna's 43rd annual Regatta yesterday, and when the final shot was fired, majority of honors were captured by the British Empire Games Swimming team which will represent Canada at next year's Empire Games in New Zealand.

Irene Strong, star performer of Vancouver's Amateur Swimming Club, captured the Hiram Walker trophy for senior ladies; Peter Salmon, of Victoria Y.M.C.A., walked off with the Blackwell Challenge Cup in senior men competition; Fred Smith, of Toronto's Lakeshore Swimming Club was awarded the Percy Norman aggregate for junior boys, while Dorothy Cook, of Vancouver A.S.C., captured the junior girls aggregate.

It was one of the finest Regattas held since the first water show in 1906. Ideal weather conditions prevailed, and the attendance broke all records.

While no new swimming records were set, the two-day event was highlighted by close competition. While Peter Salmon and Irene Strong have had things their own way in previous years, they were pushed all the way by Eastern Canada contestants, who strived valiantly to hold their end up.

In winning the senior ladies aggregate, Irene chalked up a total of 108 points, capturing six first—50 yards freestyle; 100 yards backstroke; 200 yards backstroke; 100 yards breast stroke; 100 yards butterfly and the 150 yards medley.

Second was Vivian King, of Winnipeg with 54 points, while Joan Morgan was third with 52.

Peter Salmon amassed a total of 77 points, winning four first and one third, Salmon tied with Peter Mingle in the 100 yards backstroke; won the 100 yards freestyle; 150 yards medley; 100 yards butterfly and came third in the 100 yards backstroke.

Allan Gilchrist, classy Ocean Falls swimmer, and William Ross, California, were second third with 44 and 42 points respectively. Barbara Mowat, Toronto, and Norma Stewart, Victoria Y. gave Dorothy Cook, Vancouver A.S.C., a close race in the junior girls aggregate.

Miss Cook ran up a total of 60 points, ten more than if it were not for Norma Stewart who third with 48.

Bill Thompson Is Kelowna's No. 1 Ambassador

Bill Thompson, the Mr. Wimple and Old Timer of the Fibber McGee and Molly radio program, will be Kelowna's No. 1 Goodwill Ambassador in Hollywood.

The affable comedian, who offered his services to the Kelowna Regatta committee, won the hearts of everyone, and apart from being mobbed by autograph seekers, he enjoyed himself in the Orchard City.

And he's looking forward to coming back again. What's more he's volunteered to "sell" Kelowna to other Hollywood screen and stage stars. "Don't be surprised if you don't get some other stars up here next year," he told a Courier reporter.

"You've got a grand city, an outstanding show, and I've enjoyed myself."

Jerry Colonna, who attended last year's show was responsible for bringing Thompson here. Now the latter wants other Hollywood celebrities to see Kelowna's Regatta.

More Than 10,000 People See Outstanding Parade

MORE than 10,000 people lined the one-mile parade route Monday night to witness one of the most outstanding parades ever seen in the interior of British Columbia.

Arranged by the Kelowna Kiwanis Club, prizes in the various events will be presented at the service club's next dinner meeting on Tuesday night at 6:15 o'clock in the Willow Inn. Winners will be guests of the Kiwanians.

The parade surpassed all expectations. All the superfluous adjectives in the English dictionary could not give an adequate description of the pageant.

Judges in the various sections found it difficult making decisions. First prize in the industrial section was captured by Rutland Hardware and Purves E. Ritchie and Son Ltd., which was a joint entry. Harris Meat Market took top honors in the commercial section; Kelowna Rowing Club captured service clubs and community organizations' division, while seven-year-old Jerry Schell won the decorated bicycles class.

Traffic on Bernard avenue was held up for over an hour during the parade. Long before it started to move off at 7 o'clock, thousands of people jammed the main street, and it was some time before traffic was restored to normal.

Other Winners
Other prize winners in the various sections were: second prize, industrial section, Kelowna Growers' Exchange; third prize, Barr and Anderson Ltd., Wightman Plumbing Co., Kelowna Sheet Metal Works, Veterans' Plumbing and Plumbers and Steamfitters Union.

Physicians' Prescription Pharmacy took second prize in the commercial section, and Percy Harding and Sons, Ltd. was third. Kelowna Athletic Round Table was awarded second prize in the service clubs division, while Associated Canadian Travellers were third.

Ten-year-old Mavis DeRan captured second place in the decorated bicycles. John Barron, 9, won first prize in the decorated bicycles. (Turn to Page 16, Story 7)

COAST PHONE SERVICE WILL BE IMPROVED

Vancouver - Okanagan Service Increased from Six to Ten Channels

All regular long distance circuits between Vancouver and the Okanagan Valley have been fully restored. Last winter, services through the Coquihalla Pass were completely disrupted by snow slides whose continual movement prevented any attempt in repair work until very late in the spring. More than 20 circuits between Vancouver and Eastern Canada were completely wiped out including the six Vancouver-Okanagan Valley channels.

Okanagan Telephone Company officials today stated that the Vancouver-Okanagan circuits had been increased from six to ten channels and complete service on a 24-hour basis is now available.

Additional circuits between Vancouver and the Okanagan have been made available by the use of special carrier equipment which provides more than one channel from an ordinary pair of long distance wires.

Local Entertainers Hold Spotlight In Star-studded Program As Huge Crowd Witnesses Outdoor Pageant

CAPACITY crowds jammed the Aquatic grandstand and bleachers alike, to applaud enthusiastically the two and one half hour show climaxed Regatta festivities last night.

Presentation of cups to four swimmers winning aggregate trophies by Jeannette Ollerich, Lady-of-the-Lake, highlighted the Wednesday evening show, as another perfect summer evening formed an exquisite backdrop to the open-air performance.

Most outstanding woman swimmer in Canada, Irene Strong, again piled up points to win the senior women's aggregate cup, while Peter Salmon, of Victoria, copped the senior men's aggregate trophy. Junior aggregate winners were Dorothy Cook, Vancouver A.S.C., and Fred Smith, Toronto.

Once again the Vancouver Firemen's Band opened the program, but shortly yielded to Carl Dunaway's Orchestra.

Using the tropical treasure island and technique, featuring "Sugar Blues" and "Cheriberrin." Dorn in Lady-of-the-Lake pageant, a delightful and varied, program held the interest of young and old alike throughout the show in spite of hard benches and over-crowding. Local talent, intermingled with four spot acts by visiting entertainers, spotlighted the show and on the whole were the mainstay of the entirely successful program.

Oriental Fanfare

Harmonizing with the tropical theme, Babe Newman, popular local trumpeter, opened the evening show with an almost oriental fanfare calling the attention of the throngs. From there vocalists, soloists, comedians and entertainers took over the centre of interest right to the end.

Records playing in the background where he won many festival trophies, opened the program with the rousing favorite, McNamara's Band. During the war, Mr. Mills was a popular vocalist and entertainer in the army. Encoring with Clancy Lowers the Boom, Foster encouraged the audience to join him in the choruses, and once again stirred anew the famed Regatta spirit.

Imitating such well-known trumpet-band leaders as Harry James, Henry Busby and Clyde McCoy, Babe Newman, trumpeter with Carl Dunaway's orchestra, rendered a number of amazingly accurate impressions of their style.

Dynamic Couple

Mary Riekey, who was also emcee, appeared with his vivacious blonde wife in a husband and wife team comedy act all in pantomime. Records playing in the background were so carefully followed in the actions of the dynamic couple that many actually could not distinguish between them. The Riekeys and Rooney pantomime team recently concluded an engagement in Miami, Fla. and since then have currently been playing in Vancouver at the Narrows Supper Club.

Local stars once again dominated the stage with a song written especially for the Regatta by local pianist Kay Dunaway and arranged by Babe Newman. The romantic number was entitled "Especially."

Gowning in flame colored strapless formal encrusted with sequins,

Shirley charmed the audience with her delightful voice and spirited manner in her encore, "When Woman Say No, She Mean Yes."

Harold Pettman, as well known as a baseball coach in athletic circles as an excellent trombonist in musical fields, gave a delightfully humorous imitation of a ham musician, supported by members of Carl Dunaway's orchestra.

Prancing on stage wearing the latest in print sun dresses and losing her red curls, Red Hughes accompanied by Babe Newman, as the villain complete with handlebar mustache, went into their comedy act to the tune of "No, No, a Thousand Times No!"

Feature star was Bill Thompson, famous Hollywood screen, radio and stage personality, with his "Oldtimer" and "Mr. Wimple." Commenting on the Oogopogo and other humorous idiosyncrasies lending local color to his excellent routine, Mr. Thompson was enthusiastically received by a highly delighted audience.

Local personalities already featured in their own particular fields combined talents to present a variety routine without which no stage show is complete. Red Hughes, Art Vipond, George Cameron, Harold Pettman, Shirley Elden and Dora Holitzki played a number of cowboy acts that have become classic favorites, "Blue Shadows on the Trail" and "Guitar Rag" the two most outstanding.

Foster Mills reappeared to solo with the cowboy group, suitably clad to suit in the current popular "Riders in the Sky."

Noted Violinist

Once again Riekey and Rooney captured the spotlight to impersonate in pantomime such radio and screen stars as Bing Crosby, Jimmy Durante and others, climaxing with the famous "Old MacDonald had a Farm."

The subtle beauty of oriental music drifted across the pool as Hilda McLennan traced the intricate melody of Tambourine Chinois on her violin. Her playing was as brilliant as the sparkling sequins of her truly magnificent gown. The gay rollicking festiveness of the Regatta spirit was softened for a brief moment as the exquisite notes of Gounod's "Ave Maria" enveloped the audience, casting its spell.

Mrs. McLennan is a former member of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra. In the fall she will travel to Toronto to give a series of concerts in that city.

Proposed Aquatic Grandstand

PROPOSED PAVILION & GRANDSTAND
KELOWNA REGATTA

WILLIAM K. NOPPE
ARCHITECT

Kelowna's 43rd annual International Regatta will go down in the record books as one of the most successful water shows ever staged in the Orchard City.

Old-time Regatta addicts, walking away Wednesday night from the grandstand and pavilion which have served since almost the turn of the century, cast fond glances at the spotlighted enclosure in the knowledge that next year, in all probability, the show will be held in a brand new, streamlined and modernized water stadium.

Regatta officials from President Walter Anderson and Regatta Chairman Dick Parkinson, down to the scores of volunteer workers, are keenly conscious of what the opening of the Hope-Princeton highway will mean to the show.

It'll be six hours driving time from Vancouver where it now takes two days if one wishes to have a comfortable trip. Thousands upon thousands of Vancouver people, year after year, have read about the Kelowna celebration, but they have been unable to come because of the long trip. Next year, officials here know it'll be different.

Rough figures from this year's Regatta show that more than 15,000 persons bought their way into the pool to watch two days of keen swimming, rowing, yachting, motor boat racing, water skiing and other aquatic competitions. That was 2,000 more than in 1947 when an attendance record was set. But that's only half the story. Nearly 30,000 people taxed the Kelowna City Park to capacity. In the park there was a veritable country fair with all the acknowledged attractions.

With the 1949 Regatta now a thing of the past, officials already are starting to make plans for the 44th annual event.

A committee already has been appointed by Dr. Anderson to study plans for a new aquatic building, and the above picture shows an artist's conception of the proposed structure. The building would be capable of taking care of year-round activities.

The barge will definitely not be used another year, with the result officials are hopeful that the first wing of the proposed structure may be constructed this year.

DROUGHT AFFECTS HONEY
KITCHENER, Ont., (CP)—District beekeepers say that this year's prolonged dry weather may reduce the area's honey crop 75 per cent below average. Most serious is the severe shortage of white clover—mainstay of the honey industry.

"Unsurpassed for Infant Feeding"

Says Mrs. T. W. Clarke, Red Deer Dietitian and Mother

"From my experience I don't think any milk can surpass Carnation Milk for babies' feeding formulas," says Mrs. Clarke, Graduate Dietitian, former Home Economics teacher, and mother of a fine Carnation baby boy. "Carnation eliminates the necessity of boiling the milk — its absolute convenience and sterility appeal to me so much."

Mothers all across Canada — Home Economists, and women who are not trained Dietitians — find their babies thriving on Carnation Evaporated Milk formulas. They find Carnation absolutely safe. Wonderfully easy to digest. Completely nourishing — with vitamin D increased to 400 Units per pint, to help build straight bones and strong, healthy teeth. Ask your doctor about a Carnation formula for your baby.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS HERE

GEORGE H. BAILLIE

BERNARD ALLEN

George H. Baillie, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific region, and Bernard Allen, manager British Columbia district, Canadian National Railways, arrived here in their private railway cars to take in the 43rd annual Kelowna Regatta.

Accompanied by their wives, the railway executives also brought special parties with them. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Allen were Mayor and Mrs. Charles Thompson. Mayor Thompson accepted the post of Commodore at this year's Regatta. Frederick B. Brown, prominent Vancouver businessman, and Mrs. Brown accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Baillie.

Mayor and Mrs. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen plan spending several days at the Eldorado Arms following the Regatta.

More than a million dollars will be spent this year for housing as be spent for new homes and $271,000 for Indian families from the 60% for repairs and renovations. A welfare appropriation of the Indian school building program is also in progress.

Family Prayer Crusader Plans to Hold Big Rally In Kelowna September 28

GROUNDWORK for great crusade for family prayer was laid here Friday night when the famed Irish-born American priest, Rev. Patrick Peyton addressed a capacity crowd of clergy and laymen representing the whole of the Okanagan in St. Joseph's Hall.

Father Peyton, founder of the well-known weekly Mutual Broadcasting System "Family Theatre" Program, and who described himself as a "travelling salesman for prayer," said Friday night's gathering here was the largest he had addressed since he started the crusade a few days ago in Western Canada from his Vancouver headquarters.

"The reason you are here is to be enlisted in a great prayer army," the mild-mannered, quiet-spoken priest said. "An army of 40,000 men, he continued, will march from home to home from Manitoba to the Pacific Coast and in the Yukon and Alaska from October 9 to 16 to get every Catholic home to pledge family prayer.

"This is what I am trying to do," the tall rugged young crusader with the soft Irish brogue and disarming personality explained. "I want to get the family Rosary back in the homes. . . . As a salesman for the family Rosary I am trying to get husbands and wives, sons and daughters to close their doors on the world and give at least 10 minutes of every day to God in prayer. . . . That's what I'm living for."

Following his recovery from a fatal illness, which he attributed to the Blessed Virgin, and his ordination to the priesthood in the Congregation of the Holy Cross in 1942, Father Peyton has dedicated his life to "Our Lady of the Rosary." "I am a fanatic for family prayer," he admitted. "I feel I have an awful debt to pay back. . . . I couldn't sit back and watch deadly enemies break up homes. . . . So I went out on the road to fight the enemies of good homes."

Attuned to modern trends of publicity, Father Peyton said he "grasps every legitimate means to advertise this crusade of the awful, awful power of the Rosary. . . . I'm selling family prayer like Ford sells cars."

Even a motion picture has been completed, he said, to further his nationwide campaign. It is "Road to Peace," starring Bing Crosby. During a discussion period Father Peyton outlined the organizational plans for the lay workers who will call at every Catholic home. Friday night's meeting in Kelowna, he said, was early, due to the large extent of the territory.

September Campaign
The real campaign starts in September, culminating in the week of October 9-16 when the 40,000 men in Western Canada and Alaska go out and bring back the family prayer pledges.

Most Rev. M. Johnson, D.D., Bishop of the Nelson Diocese, of which the Okanagan north of Winfield is a part, said he and 17 other bishops and archbishops in Western Canada and Alaska were ready to back up Father Peyton's crusade with every resource at their disposal.

"No greater crusade ever has been inaugurated in the history of Canada," said His Excellency. "I'll go further. Never has there been a more vigorous spiritual effort since the Crusades!"

"There is no favor I want more from Heaven," the bishop declared, "than to have this crusade become a grand success." Confident of success, His Excellency said "we can enroll 100 percent if we have faith in the Mother of God."

Bishop Johnson said he would personally accompany the crusading priest wherever he went in his diocese.

Flies to Calgary
Speaking in support of the crusade in his Okanagan deanery, Very Rev. W. B. McKenzie, Kelowna pastor, said the "endorsement comes from you in your rap attention and the expressions on your faces."

Frank E. Hyland, Kelowna, acted as chairman. Earlier the clergy and laymen attending the meeting sat down to a dinner catered by the Catholic Women's League of Kelowna. Musical entertainment was given by Mrs. Ethel Magee, Kelowna pianist, and Miss June Brengel, local soprano.

Father Peyton left Kelowna early Saturday for Penticton to board a plane for Calgary. Before coming back for another organizational meeting in Penticton on August 28, he will speak daily in the larger centres in Alberta, Northwest Territories, Manitoba, back into Northern Alberta, Yukon, Alaska, and the Pacific Coast.

Three rallies will be held in this diocese: East Kootenay on September 26, West Kootenay on September 27, and in Kelowna for the entire Okanagan on Wednesday, September 28. Father Peyton will be the main speaker at the mass meetings.

OGO NOW HITS BILLBOARD ADVERTISING

Ogopogo has been in the news columns, now he's hit the billboards and the advertising columns of the newspapers of British Columbia.

At the coast last week a Courier reporter nearly caused a traffic jam as he gazed at a billboard featuring Kelowna's Ogopogo giving the start of their lives to three fishermen.

And on August 11th, the newspapers of the province will carry a scene of Okanagan Lake with Ogopogo heading north between Kelowna and Siwash Point.

The billboard and the advertisement is part of the Home Oil campaign advising British Columbians to "see B.C. first," to take their vacations in exploring their own province.

Our readers have probably noticed advertisements of this campaign in the pages of this newspaper. Each carries a scene from some section of the province and the idea is that the reader guesses the locale of the scene. The series is definitely interesting and should do much to further the purpose of the campaign, to persuade British Columbians to holiday at home.

However, few people surely, will have difficulty in locating the Okanagan Lake one. Certainly no other body of water in this province can match the description in the advertisement: "Famed for its fabulous monster, this body of water extends through 80 miles of sun-kissed orchards and brown, rolling hills."

There's even a Regatta hint in the scene as a couple of sailboats are fruitlessly pursuing Ogopogo.

All of which is good publicity for the Okanagan—and Home Gas.

Easy raising and lowering is insured. The countersunk adjusting screw can be tightened or loosened to control the spring pressure.

Best of all—THE R.O.W. WINDOW CAN BE REMOVED (by pressing against spring cushion and lifting it out) TO WASH BOTH SIDES INDOORS.

"Okanagan" means "Land of the Big Heads," apparently referring to the half-dozen rock faces or giant's heads throughout the Valley?

Kalamalka Lake is a Hawaiian word meaning "Land of the Bright Sun." In the early days several Hawaiian Island natives found their way into the Okanagan.

War Canoe Club's "Pow Wow" Dance was Friday's Major Function

Last large social function to take place before the famous and entertainment-packed Regatta, was the War Canoe Club's big "Pow Wow" dance held at the Aquatic Club last Friday evening.

As a rule any dance run by a group of teenagers promises to be one of the most successful on record, and such was the case last Friday evening. Under the capable direction of Herb Sullivan, president of the club, a group of fifteen or twenty teenagers completely transformed the bright Aquatic Club into a mysterious hay-seed bower. Corn leaves draped the various posts changing them into amazingly authentic corn-stalks. Bundles of hay strewn the valances on the French windows. Gay drawings of hard times decorated the wall, and the dim lighting added to the atmosphere.

However, no matter how exceptionally good the decorations are, it is the people in the place that make a dance successful. At least two hundred odd looking types, clad in anything from patched jeans, plaid shirts, for the boys, and peasant skirts and blouses, and ragged for the girls, to just plain odd assortments of worn out and hard-times clothes outfitted the boys and girls present, giving the dance its hard-times theme.

Finally unearthed under huge straw hats, frayed and broken, and sporting large star badges on their chests, John Agassiz and Eddie Mussatto, sheriffs of the gala affair, were at their stations at the door, helping to enforce the extremely necessary no smoking inside rule.

Finally the girl under the pig-tails proved to be Florence Boyer, without her usual short crisp feather, recognizing of the various couples became increasingly easier. Miss Boyer was accompanied by R. J. Bennett. Other couples in fantastic garb included Dave Leckie and Dot Cowie, Allan Keller and Bev Glasgow, Ernie Baldoek and Rosemary Evans, Don Watt and Val James, Lyle Horner and Claire Scantland, Jack Weddell and Rita Rampone, Nev Thompson and Joyce Maxson.

Popular Singer
Perhaps one of the most authentic imitations of the famed crooner, Frankie Laine, was portrayed by Jeff Hodgkinson who sang such popular numbers as "All of Me," much to the huge delight of his audience who recalled him to the mike so many times band leader Carl Dunaway had to intervene to get the dancing underway again. His date for the evening was Marion Lea.

Among those especially enjoying the floor show, at which Hugh Burbank, a new member of the senior men's crew, gave some excellent character imitations of such old favorites as Frank Sinatra, Winston Churchill and others, were Peter Wilsdon and Doreen Richards, Dick Kuipers and Elva Baldoek, Ken Turk and Thelma Arnet.

Representing Satan, Chuck Thorson, of Hollywood, Cal., one of Satan's hell drivers, wandered into the dance stag to get a first-hand view of how Canadian youth spends a Friday evening. He had previously attended the Aquatic-sponsored free square dancing classes and found that the teen-agers of this country were as energetic as those at home.

Other dance youths entering into the carefree spirit of the dance were Ross and Art Lander, Dave Lennie and others.

In spite of the newly erected seats built on the verandahs, many wandered out of the packed dance hall to cool off between numbers. Heavy plaid shirts and much jumping around combined with the natural mildness of the ideal summer evening to become occasionally uncomfortable for some of the dancers. Spotted out on the verandah between dances were Elaine Jantz

WELL-KNOWN NEWSPAPERMEN IN KELOWNA

As an indication of the place the Regatta holds in the world of news, one could find no better yardstick than the contingent of newspapermen who invaded the city this week. The three Vancouver dailies sent men in order that they may obtain full coverage of the water show and the personalities involved. In addition, the newspapers had their own official photographers.

The Canadian Press and British United Press were serviced by members of The Courier staff, who rushed the results to these newspapers, and is familiar with the United States as well as in many of the contestants and officials.

Representatives from Victoria and other interior newspapers, including other points of the Okanagan, were also here for the two-day event.

1948 REGATTA WAS WETTEST IN HISTORY

Normal August Rainfall Fell During First Day of 1948 Water Show

It was a wet, sodden story, the 1948 Regatta. In the first place the lake was high, the official reading being 104.5 feet, which is two feet higher than the lake should go. This meant that the aquatic was conducted under difficulties. The beach was gone; the lake had crept into the lower floor of the pavilion. Special walks and platforms had to be built. The park was a sodden mess with water lying in stagnant pools over much of it.

But these things could be overcome. It was the rain which gave the knockout blow to the 1948 show.

Over a thirty-two year period, the normal rainfall in Kelowna in July had been just .76ths of an inch. In July last, year we had 1.89 inches.

In August the average rainfall over 32 years had been .77 inches. In August last year there was 3.98 inches and it rained on 19 of the 31 days of the month!

The Regatta was on the 3rd and 4th of August. On the 2nd it rained .67 of an inch; on the 3rd again .67 and on the 4th .83. These figures are not large when compared with coast precipitation but they do mean that on the first day of the Regatta we had almost our normal rainfall for the whole month!

On the 2nd, and again on the 3rd we had as much rainfall as we normally have in all August. Okanagan people, unused to going about and sitting around in dampness, felt it was a pretty heavy rain. It is interesting to note that in July, 1948 the rainfall was three times that of normal while in August it was over five times the normal fall!

The park was a sodden mess with water lying in stagnant pools over much of it.

Over a thirty-two year period, the normal rainfall in Kelowna in July had been just .76ths of an inch. In July last, year we had 1.89 inches.

In August the average rainfall over 32 years had been .77 inches. In August last year there was 3.98 inches and it rained on 19 of the 31 days of the month!

The Regatta was on the 3rd and 4th of August. On the 2nd it rained .67 of an inch; on the 3rd again .67 and on the 4th .83. These figures are not large when compared with coast precipitation but they do mean that on the first day of the Regatta we had almost our normal rainfall for the whole month!

On the 2nd, and again on the 3rd we had as much rainfall as we normally have in all August. Okanagan people, unused to going about and sitting around in dampness, felt it was a pretty heavy rain. It is interesting to note that in July, 1948 the rainfall was three times that of normal while in August it was over five times the normal fall!

HOPE FOR SECOND CROP
EDMONTON—(CP)—July rains his year have brought hopes that a second crop may be taken from oats and barley fields in a large central Alberta area. Field crops commissioner A. M. Wilson said it will depend on whether fall weather remains favorable late in the year.

One Mile of Hot Dogs

Hot dogs? You said it! More than a mile of 'em! Laid end to end, the American-introduced carnival fare prepared for Regatta visitors, stretched for 6,000 feet—or one mile, 240 yards. Twelve hundred pounds of wieners were ordered by the Regatta concession committee, to satisfy the hot-dog-hungry Regatta crowds.

No, no one actually laid 1,200 pounds end to end. But Clarence Harris, local butcher, did measure several pounds and found that each pound averaged five feet. But Regatta workers, whose pet peeve in former years was skinning thousands of frankfurters perished the thought this year. They came skinless—the wieners, that is.

To dress up the truck load of wieners required 1,400 dozen buns.

TOURISTS LIKE MANITOBA
WINNIPEG—(CP)—The Manitoba travel bureau estimates that the province's tourist figures this year would be more than 100,000—from 15 to 20 per cent above last year's total. Officials say large numbers of fishermen and hunters are using the new northern highway from The Pas to Cranberry Portage.

Our Town

By JACK SCOTT

AH, AUSTERITY
Something had bothered me about the breakfast. I felt that "Our meat bill this month looks like the weekly bank clearings."

"There's no bacon," "Oh, so that's it," I said. "No bacon, no sun up in the sky, stormy weather."

"No bacon from now on. No pork chops from now on. No spare ribs."

"Have you been quarrelling with the butcher or are we just going vegetarian?"

"We are going on our own, personal austerity plan," my wife said.

"Our meat bill this month looks like the weekly bank clearings."

"Life won't be worth living without spareribs," I said.

"Life won't be worth living, period," my wife said.

"Well, we have each other."

"That's a poor substitute for pork chops."

"It is indeed."

"Why don't we make another garden like we did last year?" I said.

"That would save us some money."

"You and your garden."

"Well, we got a few peas from it."

"They're still searching for Dr. Livingstone in that jungle."

"The pumpkin was fine."

"It looked fine with a candle in it," my wife said, "but why don't we grow something we can eat?"

Look at the garden Mr. Manson had.

"Mr. Manson, Mr. Manson. That's that Mrs. Wiggs in the cabbage patch."

"At least his carrots looked like carrots and not those golf tees you produced."

"How can you make a garden when the dog has a bone-burying complex?"

"Well, if things get any worse, we can dig up the bones and make soup out of them," my wife said.

"Or roast the dog," I said. "That would be nice."

"Anyway, we're strictly austerity from now on. No more soft drinks, no expensive cuts of meat, no glasses of milk between meals, no butter on our baked potatoes."

"Maybe we're being a little selfish in complaining," I said. "After all, half the world is starving."

"But not in the midst of plenty," my wife said. "Do you realize we make more than the average person in Canada makes? How are people living who make less than we do?"

"I wonder every day."

"Maybe the answer is to go back to living like the Indians," I said. "Eat birch bark or whatever it is Indians used to eat."

"If we ate birch bark the price would go up," my wife said.

"Indians used to live on boiled roots and berries and wild corn."

"That diet sounds like a dinner at the Waldorf after the Scott austerity plan goes into effect."

"Your really serious about this?" I said.

"Potato soup, macaroni and cheese, cold fried porridge, 'tripe'—I've got a whole list of lovely surprises for you," my wife said.

"Well, don't look so happy about it."

"I'm not happy about it. I'm just glad I decided to do something positive."

"Good for you," I said, "and why for dinner tonight?"

"Beans."

"Wouldn't you like to go out for dinner? You need a little hollers."

My wife looked at me closely and saw that I wasn't fooling. "Okay," she said, "you win."

SWIMMING INSTRUCTORS

Swimming instructors and lifeguards are these three young Kelowna people. They are conducting the Kelowna Aquatic Association free swim classes and patrolling the Aquatic pool from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. daily in case of emergencies. John Kitson (left) is senior, now in his third year at the Aquatic. Miss Jane Stirling has two years to her credit, and Brian Weddell started out this year. All are qualified Red Cross instructors and holders of life saving certificates.

Bruins Come Out on Short End 2 Ways in Kamloops

KAMLOOPS — Kamloops Young Liberals defeated Kelowna Bruins 13-4 in a Saturday night interior boxla loop fixture in Memorial Arena that ended on a sour note with more than six minutes of regulation time left.

With 8:48 minutes of the last quarter gone, the game came to an abrupt ending. The Kelowna coach disputed a holding penalty to Bruin Jackie Weddell and when he failed to get any satisfaction, the Bruins left the floor. The game was forfeited to the high-flying Liberals.

Liberals started fast and dominated the play throughout as they shot into a 4-1 lead in the first quarter, raised it to 6-2 at the half, and then gathered in three more counters to give them their 13-4 lead at the sudden finish.

Ken McDonald tallied three times and Fred Davies and Dick Kennedy scored two each for the winners. Kamloops Kermit Smith led all point-getters with one goal and four assists.

M. McDonald, Al McDonald, Phil Braithwaite, Gordie Sundin and Dick Landsburg garnered singletons.

Ernie Rampone, Ernie Bianco, Alf Ball and Neville Thomson scored for the Bruins.

Shots on goal totals reveal extent of the Liberal domination of play. They tested goalies Al Laface with 31 shots as against 19 fired at Kamloops netminder Fred Barrows.

Kelowna boxla officials here this week denied the Bruins "walked off the floor." Coach Fred Ostrikoff did question the penalty given Weddell by Kamloops arbiter A. Webster.

Ostrikoff is reported to have said: "My team will not continue play until you give an explanation about that penalty."

Webster, then, according to local reports, called the game. No protest is planned, or even was hinted, local spokesmen say.

Whether any action is planned by the league is unknown. The Courier tried to get Russ McEwan, league head at Kamloops on the telephone Monday, but he had left that day for a two-week holiday.

KELOWNIANS SWEEP BOARD AT PENTICTON

PENTICTON—Kelowna's contingent of swimmers, rowers, canoeists and water skiers all but swept the big list of events during Penticton's third post-war Regatta last week.

The meet, a culmination of many months of planning and effort on the part of the Penticton B.P.O. Elks, Lodge and the Penticton Aquatic Club, was considered the finest aquatic program seen here in the past two decades.

Roger Tait, Kelowna, took the Leigh Memorial Trophy by piling up 18 points in the junior swimming events. Runners-up were Kelowna swimmers Don McKenzie and Alice dePuyffer.

The Geddes Trophy for junior girls' war canoe race was taken by Kelowna and the senior men's team from Kelowna won the W. R. Cranley Cup for winning the half-mile in the fast time of 4:16.5.

In scope the show extended from the junior aquatic events for the younger swimmers, which have for the past three years been a special project of the Elks, to speedboat racing, water skiing and a series of war canoe and racing shell exhibitions.

Shirley Thomson, Helen Ahrens and Janet Sandland, all of Kelowna Ski Club, gave a water skiing exhibition. Kelowna Rowing Club gave an exhibition of rowing in the club's shell four and shell double, brought here specifically for the purpose.

Kelowna War Canoe Club also sent canoes by barge to this water show.

TIGERS FINALLY TAKE OVER TOP SPOT IN BOXLA

(Special to The Kelowna Courier)
VELVON—After more than two months' play in the interior senior B boxla loop, the defending champion Vernon Tigers are finally leading the circuit.

Minus three of their sparkplugs—coach Boonie and Rollic Sammartino and Dick McCluskey—the Tigers polished off the Salmon Arm sextet 11-4 in the Civic Arena here Thursday night.

The triumph was the Tigers' eleventh of the season, giving them 22 points and leaving Kelowna Bruins trailing with 20 points. Kamloops Young Liberals occupied third place, eight points off the pace while Salmon Arm have a firm hold on the cellar position with one victory as against 13 defeats.

Playing before some 300 fans, the visitors battled on even terms with the Bengals for one quarter. But after two minutes of the second stanza the Tigers reared into action. They led 6-3 at the half, 9-4 at the three-quarter mark and added a pair in the final frame while Stan Hammond blanked the north-easterners in the Vernon end.

The contest was clean throughout but still rough enough to be crowd-pleasing. As usual, Bob Monahan gave the audience an added show, skipping and twisting in for three individual counters—each of these in his own style that goes unmatched in the interior circuit.

Stan Mills celebrated his return to action with a brace of goals and one relay. Sarge Sammartino enjoyed a good night, topping the game's scorers with two goals and two helps.

Nick Polichiek, Ed McKay, Ken Watt and Roy Beech countered for the losers.

Finest achievement of the night was Weddell's high jumping. For the third time in competition this year, he cleared five feet, nine inches—the record he and Dick Douglas of Vernon set in the valley high schools track meet here in May—and barely missed going over at 5'10".

With so many other attractions going on this coming Wednesday, the ICAAT meet will be dropped until the following Wednesday (August 10). Events will be listed in the August 8 issue of The Kelowna Courier.

Feature of the next meet will be a clinic of the techniques of sprinting, with special emphasis on the start. Teachers who work with track in schools are urged to attend this session.

10,000 SEE MIDLAND PAGEANT

—Central Press Canadian

"Salute to Canada," 500-cost pageant commemorating the martyrdom of early missionaries to Canada, at Midland, Ont., attracted nearly 10,000 spectators from all over Canada and the U.S. The pageant was acted on the site of the graves of Fathers Brecheuf and Lalement, Jesuit missionaries tortured to death by Iroquois Indians 300 years ago. These pageant actresses took the part of English court dancers. All the cast was Canadian.

Kiser Rules Local Roost
In Grunt and Groan Wars

Mat wars may come and go, but as far as Kelowna patrons are concerned, their idol is one blonde Portlander, Jack Kiser.

Everyone wanted to get in the act and help their favorite do the work that some 65 bulls had failed to do before—mess up Jack Fisher, the Texas matador.

A visiting member of the Vancouver Firemen's Band started it. And before long virtually every member in the front row was making sure Fisher pulled off no more "mean and dirty tactics"—as one excited lady fan called it—than could be helped.

And so the main event on Tuesday's squirrel card—all part of the Kelowna Regatta entertainment—went the way the 750 fans wanted it. After both battlers worked over his opponent's left leg for a fall, Kiser slammed his way to the deciding fall on a doubled-over shoulder press.

Tarzan Can't Win

Virtue triumphed in the semi-windup too, when Clair Roberts of New Westminster, a newcomer to the professional game, got the nod from Referee Pierre Labelle, over Kelowna's pet power, "Tarzan" (Potvin) Simba, Vancouver.

Applauding "Tarzan," who revels in his role as rascal, renewed his "feud" with Labelle, thus forfeiting his chances of victory.

Spots in the main event and semi-windup were decided in a five-man battle royal that started off the night show more than a half hour late.

Labelle was first out, and eliminated for the night. Simba finally succumbed to the superior weight of three other contenders, and shortly afterwards Roberts found himself the victim of the combined assault of Kiser and Fisher.

Simba and Roberts, second and third out, went into the semi bill, and the last two—Kiser and Fisher—came back for the headliner. Rousing a-la-female variety also made its debut in Kelowna Tuesday night, with a pair of tiny mites tangling in the special event following the battle royal.

Bea Gillis, Vancouver, with the advantage of judo training, took the odd fall from "Ginger" O'Hara, of New Westminster. Linda Dale, Denver, Colo., originally was booked to appear against Miss Gillis, but due to an injury received in training, she was unable to show. Next session of grunt and groan will come off around September 15, Tex Porter, Seattle promoter, said. Querier by fans if he would bring back a rematch between Kiser and arch-villain Tony Ross, he said. "I hope to."

BRUINS DIG IN
FOR 15-12 WIN
AGAINST ACES

Under-Staffed Kelowna Septet
Given Scare by Salmon
Armors

Top spot in the Interior boxla loop standings was all square again Monday night as a short-handed Kelowna Bruins' squad battled through with a hard-earned 15-12 victory at the open-air box in Salmon Arm. Game was originally scheduled for Tuesday night, but played off Monday by mutual arrangement.

Missing such regulars as net-minder Al Laface, Verne Ardiel, Terry O'Brien, Don Fleming, Harold Person and Herb Capozzi, Bruins had to dig in to maintain their perfect win record over the improving northerners.

The Salmon Armors, too, were understaffed and many felt if Armstrong's Ken Watt, Doug Norman and Ernie Henderson had been around, the Aces would have come through with their second win of the season.

Clean, though rugged checking and a better brand of combination play on both sides saw the gutted stick warriors keep on each other's heels right up to near the end of the fixture. The home-town tied the game up twice and for a brief moment in the third stanza were one goal in front.

Bruins will be back in Salmon Arm Friday night for a postponed game and play hosts to the Aces in a scheduled return engagement in Memorial Arena Saturday night.

VALLEY LEAGUE
MAY GO SENIOR
SAYS F. BECKER

B.C.A.H.A. Chief Sees 50-50
Chance Okanagan Puck Squads Will Climb Into
To Senior A Ranks

Okanagan-Mainline hockey may step up from intermediate to senior, according to Frank Becker, Vernon. The B.C. Amateur Hockey Association chief gave this hint out when interviewed in Vancouver during the week-end.

Becker is reported to have said there is a 50-50 chance the local loop will discuss a change in status at the annual meeting due shortly. And if it does, Nanaimo will be seeking a berth in the league.

"If they (Nanaimo) are accepted it is quite all right with the B.C.A.H.A. League officials will just have to work out a reasonable schedule, that's all," Becker was quoted.

He said the tremendous increase in hockey interest in the Okanagan plus the installation of artificial ice in every rink in the circuit—Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna—are two of the main reasons why the Interior loop wants to go senior this year.

Becker also reminded that the six players allowed as imports by each team this year (there were only four allowed last year) will be the nucleus of senior talent. These, plus any players who could be obtained in possible deals with Pacific Coast Hockey League professional teams training in the three arenas this fall would solve most of the talent problems entailed in breaking into senior calibre hockey.

Should the valley league decide to retain its intermediate (senior B) set-up, Nanaimo would not be interested in joining. Present plans call for a coast senior B league embracing teams from Nanaimo, Victoria, New Westminster, Vancouver and possibly Chilliwack.

Early in the summer, Becker reported there would be Junior A hockey played at the coast this year. It was to have replaced senior B owing to the poor drawing power of the intermediate variety in mainland centres.

Gatin Halts Kelowna's Win String;
Murraymen Face Big Hurdle Sunday

Despite their 9-2 shellacking at Pentiction Sunday, Kelowna Red Sox managed to hold on to second place in the Okanagan Valley (International) Baseball League standings.

The loss to Pentiction—the second straight to Pentiction hurler Len Gatin—cut the league's longest winning streak of the season to eight straight. It was Kelowna's first loss since June 5, that memorable 3-2 decision dropped here to Pentiction in the 11th inning.

Shaky infield support and an off-day for chucker Pete Scott saw the southerners grab an early lead and always look good for a win. Gatin packed dynamite at the plate as well, smashing out a double and driving one of Scott's "blooper" balls over the fence for a grand-slam homer.

Though the Sox are all but assured of a playoff spot, they'll have to hustle to take over top berth from Grand Coulee, before the schedule sands run out. Sox will have the chance to put their cards on the table when the Coulee nine come here on Sunday. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Expect Record Crowd

In their previous meeting at Grand Coulee on May 8, the Coulee drew a record crowd of 15-6 triumph. Probably the greatest home crowd of the year will be out at Elks Stadium Sunday to see if Dick Murray's crew can even the score and move a full game up on the southern loop leaders.

Outcome of Coulee's game at Tonasket, scheduled for Sunday but postponed until sometime this week, was not known locally.

Only other league result available up to this writing was Kamloops Legion's 9-3 trouncing over the winless Oroville team. Oroville has games against Oliver, Bridgeport and Omak to pick up at least one victory before the curtain comes down on the 1949 play.

Other games this Sunday are: Pentiction at Brewster, Tonasket at Kamloops, Omak at Bridgeport and Oliver at Oroville.

GOLF CLUB GIVES CONVINCING OKAY
TO TWILIGHT DO'S

Mrs. Peggy Wilson and Don McLeod wrapped up honors at the mixed twilight do on the local links Friday evening.

Runners-up among the 50-odd divvotters were Don Johnston and Mrs. C. R. Reid.

Slightly less than the record number of attendees this year Friday evening assured the popular affair will be held again. But just when will be decided later, with "early in August" getting the preference.

With more men turning out than women, some of the males were grouped together. Ches Owen and Len Ashley copped honors in this class, though both declined to divulge which acted in the opposite sex role.

The bang-up show concluded with refreshments, sing-songs and other entertainment in the club house.

Washington University Huskies, retained the four-oared championship of Lake Okanagan, beating second-placed Kelowna Rowing Club by about a boat's length. Vancouver Rowing Club, who lost to Kelowna Tuesday in the B.C. championship four-oared event, finished in third position, well behind the Kelowna rowers.

Members of the Washington team included D. McBride (bow), H. Mawer, Tom Naden, Bud McGinnis (stroke), Kelowna team: Bob Wall (bow), Chris McCormick, Ray Bostock, Alan Moore (stroke), Vancouver team: Morgan Steward, Dymie Kayill, Les O'Grady, Dick Crump.

Peter Mingle, of Montreal, won handsily in the 200 yards backstroke, senior men, C.N.W. event, finishing well ahead of Bill Ross, California, with a time of 2:30. Art Inglis, Victoria was third.

It was a neck and neck battle between Joan Morgan and Irene Strong in the 200 yards backstroke, senior ladies' C.N.W. event. Irene tipped the board a fraction of a second ahead of Joan with a time of 2:43. Ina Salmon finished third.

All Vancouver entries in the Class 15 over 250 cubic inches, speedboat races, captured top honors. They were A. LeCam in "Stolen Time"; Bonny Berto, in "Thunderbird"; and C. Kobus, in "Mercury 4".

Dorothy Cook, Vancouver A.S.C. and Beryl Lewis, Toronto's Lakeshore Swimming Club, gave one of the greatest races in the 200 yards freestyle when they churned through the water stroke for stroke. Cook won by a fraction of a second over the Torontonian with a time of 2:38.1 minutes. Lowell Rose, Ocean Falls placed third.

Two members of Canada's British Empire Games Swimming team fought a neck and neck battle in the 400 yards freestyle, senior men C.N.W. event. Allan Gilchrist nose out the other Ocean Falls rival, Jim Portlance, with a time of 4:44.6. Both lads took the lead from the start, but Gilchrist finished about

CRUCIAL MATCH FOR KELOWNA ELEVEN SUNDAY

Highlight of Tuesday afternoon's show was the senior fours event, in which the Kelowna Rowing Club successfully retained the B.C. championship, defeating Vancouver Rowing Club by three lengths.

Allan Gilchrist, classy Ocean Falls swimmer, had little trouble taking the 200 yards freestyle, senior men, Canadian Northwest Swimming Championship event. Gilchrist churned the water with a time of 2:38.4 ahead of John Bell, Winnipeg, and Jim Portlance, Ocean Falls.

One of the closest races was the 50 yards freestyle, senior ladies' when Irene Strong captured the Vancouver Daily Province Trophy, won last year by Beverly Sabin, Spokane, who this year did not compete in the Regatta. Irene nosed out Kay Kerr, of Toronto, touching the finishing line a fraction of a second ahead of the Torontonian with a time of 2:44.

Close Finishes
Alice dePuyffer, Kelowna Ogopogo Swimming Club, was one of the few Kelowna contestants to score in an open water event. The 14-year-old local girl finished third in the 100 yards junior girls C.N.W. championship event, a few strokes behind Beryl Lewis, Toronto, and Dorothy Cook, Vancouver A.S.C., who were first and second respectively.

One of the main features was the close finishes in many races. In fact it looked as if some of the swimming coaches were going to dispute the judges' decision on several occasions.

Regatta fans also witnessed thrilling motor-boat races with "souped up" engines. Charlie Kobus, racing in "Mercury 4" captured the Occidental Fruit Trophy on Tuesday. Second was "Thunderbird" driven by Benny Berto, Vancouver, while Art Jones, racing in "Paddy" was third.

Appearing in city police court July 30 on a charge of having liquor in a restaurant, Larry Stewart, of Kelowna was fined $50 and both lads took the lead from the start, but Gilchrist finished about

NEW AQUATIC GRANDSTAND THIS YEAR?

Start May Be Made on New Kelowna Aquatic Club Building Shortly

RECORD CROWD
Present Aquatic Plant Far From Adequate to Handle Growing Crowds

A start may be made this year on new facilities for the Kelowna Aquatic Association.

President Walter Anderson indicated this yesterday afternoon after a preliminary check on gate receipts, which are expected to hit an all-time high.

The grandstand and bleachers were filled to capacity both afternoons and evenings, while the "lake" in the various concessions will also show a big increase over last year's returns.

"The support we received from the public and entertainers has been tremendous," declared Dr. Anderson as he surveyed the jam-packed grandstand. "The present aquatic plant—capable of seating around 4,500 people—is far from adequate to handle the huge crowds which has been increasing every year. He estimated 15,000 people would have witnessed the program on both days, had there been sufficient seats.

Dr. Anderson, serving his third term as president of the Aquatic Association, stated one of the last things he would like to do before retiring from office, would be to make a start on the new building.

Started By Pioneers
Kelowna's water show, started by a group of pioneers around the turn of the century, has grown to one of the outstanding swimming meets in the Dominion.

Every succeeding year brings more swimming entries, and Eastern Canada competitors lauded Regatta officials over the smooth way in which the swimming events were run.

"It'll be back next year," shouted Peter Mingle of Montreal, at the close of yesterday's show Toronto's Lakeshore swimmer, Barbara Mowat, and Vivian King, of Winnipeg, expressed similar sentiments.

Today majority of swimmers boarded railway trains and buses enroute to their homes, while a few plan to spend several days resting on the picturesque shores of Lake Okanagan.

TIME? August 3-12. Full program daily for all ages.

SPEAKERS?
Rev. Ed. Erickson, Rev. Ewald Schmidt, Rev. Herbert Peeler, REMEMBER—Gospel Services nightly at 8 p.m. in the big tent for the public.

WINFIELD CUBS DEFEAT OYAMA

OYAMA—July 26 saw a rally between Oyama, and Winfield, baseball teams. Oyama kept a close tag on the Winfield nine for the first half of the game and then the Winfield Cubs got the upper hand and the game ended with an 8-4 score for the home team.

On the mound for the winning team was George Bagdanovich with fourteen strike-outs and one hit. Ed Gallagher was on the mound for the Green Caps. He had five strike-outs and Shikido, both Cubs, scored three-base hits, while R. Graff of the Cubs had a two-base hit. Gil Berry of the Green Caps also had a two-base hit.

A very close game was played between Green Caps and Aces, the final score being 6-5 for the latter team.

George Williamson scored the only home run of the game, while another Winfield player, R. Graff, scored a three-base hit. Gil Berry, of the Green Caps also poked out a two-bagger.

Ed Gallagher, on the mound for the Green Caps, fanned nine, while George Bagdanovich of the Aces struck out thirteen and was also touched for five hits.

Due to the absence of the regular umpire a substitute was used.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ley are to be congratulated on the arrival of a son.

Best wishes for a speedy and complete recovery are extended to Mrs. H. R. Thompson, who has broken her leg, and will be unable to walk for six months.

St. John's Lutherans held their annual convention at the Oyama Community Hall on Friday, June 29, to Sunday, July 31.

N. FIEDERER PASSES AWAY

Death of Nicholas Riederer occurred Monday, August 1, at his home, 574 Coronation Avenue. Had Mr. Fiederer lived one day more he would have observed his 66th birthday.

Catholic funeral service was held from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service this morning, Rev. A. V. Maglio officiating. Interment was in Kelowna cemetery.

Born in Yugoslavia, Mr. Fiederer came to Kelowna about three years ago. He is survived by his wife and two daughters in Yugoslavia and one son, Jack, in Kelowna.

START MADE ON NEW VALLEY POWER LINE

West Kootenay crews started last week to string the high tension line between Summerland and Penticton which will connect with the new stepdown station being erected in West Summerland on the Giant's Head road.

As a result, there is a complete power shutdown each morning from 4:30 on. Generally, it will not last past seven o'clock.

It is anticipated that it will take two weeks for the West Kootenay to string this line, which will bring 60,000 kva power right into West Summerland and is expected to alleviate the shortage during the heavy industrial season each summer and fall.

There is a "big do" on here. Certainly the city and the store decorations contributed that necessary pre-Regatta spark. Heard many visitors commenting that the town looked "very nice and gay." So, it's hats off to the Kelowna stores who did decorate. Those which didn't were conspicuous by their very fact.

Did you see Archie McKinnon's finger nails? It seemed he rashly made a statement that if Joan Morgan made the Empire Games team, he would agree to wear anything the girls for his team could dream up for a week. Joan did and the girls dreamed up hideous black-green finger nails. Archie's fingers are neither small nor dainty and he looked like something out of Fumerton's when he reached out to shake hands.

Mayor C. E. Thompson, of Vancouver, Regatta Commodore, was perhaps the most enthusiastic in his praise of the Regatta and Kelowna in general. Planning to spend a few days holiday in this aquatic town, he said, he would spend the time following the Regatta. Mayor Thompson raved about the magnificent setting which is the natural backdrop to Regatta ceremonies. Waving his hand at the panorama of mountains plunging into the lake, Mayor Thompson murmured, "It is simply beautiful. You have the ideal setting for your Regatta."

He likened this annual summer event to a pebble dropped into a pool, the ripples thus formed spreading wider and wider until eventually they encompass the pool itself. "This pool is the world," Mayor Thompson stated, "and your Regatta is the pebble. The interest caused by your Regatta is spreading all the time, judging from the number of entries into the various contests, and the widespread localities which they come."

"Fans of your Regatta as a really wonderful show is spreading to all parts of the world and judging from the way things are now, Kelowna will have a real attraction in a very short time."

Mrs. Thompson agreed with her husband.

Sister of Miss Margaret Hutton, North American ornamental swimming champion, who has spent the last few weeks in Kelowna instructing girls in ornamental swimming, Mrs. Jean Potter, of Edmonton, thought the show was simply "wonderful." In spite of the sudden cloudburst which caught her standing unshielded on the club house steps, Mrs. Potter was most complimentary in her praises of the Regatta. Her one criticism was, "I need at least two or three pairs of eyes more to take in everything that is going on."

Miss June Ness, and Max McNab, of Watson, Sask., who are holidaying in this city during Regatta, both agreed that the show was very good. Miss Ness claimed that she saw a little of the show last year when it was rained out.

Travelling up from Osoyoos to get a few pointers for their cherry carnival, Mr. and Mrs. E. Becker were interested spectators, enjoying the varied events of swimming, diving, rowing, paddling and power boat racing. Mr. Becker is treasurer of the Osoyoos Cherry Carnival and decided that the world famous Regatta could certainly give him some extremely useful pointers. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. Weddell, who motored up from Osoyoos to support their daughter Louise, a candidate of the Lady-of-the-Lake pageant.

Nearer home, Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Woolliams, of Summerland, on being questioned stated that they were certainly enjoying the Regatta and thought the whole affair was "lovely."

Miss Nancy Ladd, an old hand at viewing Regattas, was escorting her house guest, Miss Maxine Millham, of Vancouver, around the various Regatta events taking place at the moment, and finally dragging her guest down to the rowing club raft to congratulate Kelowna's crew who finished first to again win the B.C. championship trophy. Miss Millham was an enthusiastic spectator and thoroughly enjoyed the show.

It was a capacity crowd which witnessed the first day's show. The grandstand was packed to capacity while the barge also had its share of spectators.

The Wenatchee Band was given a warm welcome when it made its official appearance here. The ferry carrying the Drum and Bugle Band paused in front of the Aquatic grandstand, and the U.S. visitors played Canada's national anthem. The Vancouver Fireman's Band, stationed on the pier below the diving stand, reciprocated by playing the American national anthem. The touching ceremony, however, was carried on by the drum and bugle band. The Americans did not seem to mind the dampness, and the scantily-clad drum majorette seemed to enjoy the rain.

When the Heavens literally opened up with rain Tuesday afternoon, it brought back a grim reminder of last year's Regatta, which was literally "rained out." Spectators scrambled for shelter, but it was all over within half an hour.

More than a tenth of an inch of rain fell during the brief downpour Tuesday afternoon that drenched two bands, hundreds of patrons and sent everyone scurrying for shelter.

event, which saw Peter Mingle, of Montreal, and Victoria's Peter Salmon battle to an even draw for first place. In fact many of the races were practically dead heats.

Many familiar faces were noticeable this year, including the two veteran swimming coaches, Archie McKinnon, of Victoria, and Percy Norman, of Vancouver.

Archie did not think it was probable any new records would be set, as all contestants who took part in the British Empire Games' swimming trials in Vancouver last week, "gave everything." Another factor was the rough water caused by the open water events.

"I take my hat off to Kelowna for its efficient organization of this regatta," said Roy Ashworth, Montreal, national president of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. Wednesday afternoon, while addressing the crowded stands and thousands of listeners over CKOV, "Canada has been shown how to put on a regatta."

One of the greatest tributes yet paid to Kelowna for its neighborliness was made publicly to the Regatta crowds. Well travelled Mrs. Peggy Sellers, Montreal, national secretary of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, said: "In all my travels I've never seen such friendship and hospitality anywhere in Canada."

Only four note in the whole two days of water activities came late Wednesday afternoon when the out-come of the senior men's war canoe was protested. In that race Kelowna Junior Indians came in first, followed by Kelowna senior men, with Penticton running third.

Both the Kelowna and Penticton seniors expressed doubt the course as laid out was fair to all. They maintained the junior had the shortest distance to paddle.

Bill (Mr. Oldtimer) Thompson twice was honored by local youth groups in recognition of his work for youth in America. On Tuesday he was made honorary member of the Kelowna Teen Town and on Wednesday became an honorary member of the Kelowna Air Cadet Squadron.

Every day is bathing day for swimmers, but Wednesday morning was hair-wash day for two Victoria Y maids, Ina Salmon and Joan Morgan. While the morning sun beat down and scores looked on, the two Victoria misses lathered up and ducked in the pool in front of the grandstand. Vancouver Sun sports writer Pat Slattery recorded the impromptu toilet scene on film.

Long distance honors for the senior women were unquestionably Vivian King's. The 19-year-old Winnipeg miss added the mile to the half-mile Canadian Northwest title Wednesday morning by finishing in the time of 27:18.1 minutes, 25 yards ahead of the only other competitor, 14-year-old Barbara Mowat of Toronto.

Miss King, churning a straighter course than the Lakeshore Swimming Club mermaid, led five yards at the first lap, boosted it to 15 yards at the half-mile and was never threatened. Barbara's time was 27:45.8.

Said Barbara after she touched the finish line and congratulated Vivian: "That was the longest mile I ever swam."

PARENT PROBLEM

A young lady in her early twenties has written asking my advice on a delicate problem. The young lady has been away from home for several years completing her education. Now on her return, she has become painfully aware of a lack of formal table manners on the part of her mother and father. Happens with a lot of nice families.

"Mother insists on jumping up and down from the table, waiting on people," she explains. "Mother doesn't believe in waiting while everyone finishes the first course but jumps up and takes away the dinner plates; out to the kitchen. Then she comes in with their dessert while the others are in various stages of the first course."

"However, Mother is not my real problem because she doesn't mind if I mention a few of these points. But Father—he only gets angry and sulks whenever the subject of manners is brought up. I would hate to hurt his feelings and don't know how to make him aware of his terrible manners." (She gives several examples, but I don't want to burst up this family with any too positive identification).

"I think the world of my parents. They are happy, and we have had a very happy home life together, but these small things are important in a home and I would appreciate your frank opinion and advice. If you think this is simply narrow-mindedness on my part, let me know?"

It seems to me that this young woman has a delayed case of hypersensitivity toward her mother and dad. The malady normally afflicts sons and daughters in their teens and usually passes without any lasting effect. Most children reach an age when, having been lovingly brought up and protected, they turn on the parents and try to re-educate them.

One of my best friends in our office, a man of 50-odd years with two grown children, read the letter with a gentle smile. His kids, too, had gone through that period of unreasonable criticism. Now, he says, they have outgrown it and are as tolerant as children can be to their folks.

"They are surprised at how much I've learned suddenly," he reports.

The children who criticize the manners, speech, dress or any of the tastes of their parents almost always ignore the fact that they are sampling their maturity in a new kind of world with different standards. Often, too, the kids are exposed to a strata of society one or more levels above their parents. I suspect, for example, that our young lady has moved about, completing her education and getting her veneer, only because of the sacrifices of the mother and father who, she now feels, haven't kept up with her.

Maybe it goes deeper than this. One knowing writer has suggested that we have a natural repugnance for our loved ones, that we see in our parents "a series of grotesque caricatures" of ourselves.

I would suggest to the young woman that she will have to adjust some taps. She'll have to turn off the one that looses this flood of sensitivity and turn on full the one producing her love for her folks.

What this young lady forgets, or doesn't know, is that her guests, if they are people worth knowing, are a good deal less concerned about "manners" than they are with more important things in the human comedy.

In reality, the picture of Mom bustling off the dinner plates isn't anything for shame, but pride, and instead of pointing that this isn't according to Emily Post, a smart daughter would jump up and give a hand. A long time from now, when that mother is no longer around, the young lady will remember this as one of those wonderful memories of her mother and will never understand her present feeling.

The young lady says her father gets to sulking when she points out his errors. I am only surprised that he has not taken her across his knee "early twenties" or not. But probably he has that infinite wisdom of fathers, with or without nice manners, who just patiently wait for their little girls to grow up and find out what fine fellows they are.

EXHIBITS AT FAIRS

With a view to encouraging still more Canadians to visit the National Parks of Canada, an exhibit was shown by the National Parks Service at the recent Provincial Exhibition at Brandon, Man. There will also be exhibits at the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver, the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, and the Western Fair, London, Ont. The exhibits feature maps, films and colored transparencies depicting the scenery, wildlife, and recreational facilities in the parks.

Visitors to the national parks last year numbered 1,362,603, an increase of 118,023 over the previous year.

LOCAL TRUSTEE BOARD

Hay River, a fast-growing community on Great Slave Lake and northern terminus of the new Mackenzie Highway, is the second administrative district in the Northwest Territories to have a local trustee board. The new Hay River board, patterned on that at Yellowknife, has both elected and appointed members. Hay River has become the centre of a flourishing fishing industry.

WOMAN "GYPPED" IN EGG DEAL

Mrs. W. E. Hall, of Rutland, is going to look the second time when she buys eggs—especially at today's prices.

Last week she purchased a dozen from a neighbor, and after hard-boiling one for a salad, she commenced slicing the egg. To her surprise there was no yoke in the "breakfast fruit."

Mrs. Hall is going to suggest to her neighbor that the chickens should eat more grit, or whatever it is that causes a yoke to form in an egg.

USE COLOR CAMERA FOR FRUIT GRADING

JOHANNESBURG—(CP)—South African and overseas buyers will get better graded fruit if an experiment being carried out by this country's deciduous fruit board is successful.

At present hundreds of graders and farmers only guess the quality of fruit before packing, but in future it is hoped they will be able to work by charts showing the exact grade of the fruit according to its color. The system will also assist graders who suffer from color blindness.

Experiments have been conducted during the past 18 months by D. J. Dreyer, a senior government fruit inspector, to save thousands of pounds of fruit annually by the elimination of waste labor. The appearance of fruit determines into which grade it will fall, but it is extremely difficult to describe to packers just what color is required.

The most serious points in any grading system in South Africa are lack of color in grapes, bluish affecting the appearance of pears and apples, and the picking maturity of peaches and plums as judged by color.

If photographs that have been taken for the charts can be produced precisely, down to the exact original color, a big advance will have been made in the deciduous fruit industry to the benefit of both grower and consumer.

According to V. van der Willigen, general manager of the fruit board, grading deficiencies have caused considerable loss of money, waste of storage space and hard work for fruit inspectors.

"Our grading committees will now be in a position to work with the equivalent of the fruit itself before them. They formerly had to rely on their memories, which resulted in a large number of different interpretations."

KING'S NEPHEW RUMORED ENGAGED

Despite frequent denials, friends of the royal family have spread the rumor that the Earl of Harewood, son of the King's sister, the princess royal, would be married to an Austrian-born commoner, 22-year-old Marion Stein, a pianist. The 26-year-old earl is shown in London, after his release from an Austrian prison camp in 1945. He is seventh in succession to the British throne. It will be the first engagement of a royal family member to a commoner since the marriage 13 years ago of the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Simpson.

TO STUDY TUBERCULOSIS Every Indian school in British Columbia will, during its next academic year, include in the course of health study a unit devoted specifically to tuberculosis. LOOSEMORE RITES HELD TUESDAY

Forty-one years residence in Rutland and Kelowna came to an end for Mrs. Katie Millard Loosemore when she passed away in Kelowna General Hospital on Saturday, July 30, at the age of 61.

Native of Plymouth, Eng., Mrs. Loosemore came to Rutland in 1918 as the bride of A. C. Loosemore. Upon his death in 1935, Mrs. Loosemore came to Kelowna to reside with her sister, Mrs. Dorothy D. Chamberlain, 1885 Abbott Street.

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. Brown from St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church on Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m., followed by interment in the family plot, Kelowna cemetery. Arrangements were entrusted to Kelowna Funeral Directors.

Besides her sister, Mrs. Chamberlain, she is survived by two sisters and one brother in England. Two children predeceased her early life.

SCIENTISTS GUESSED WRONG

Though scientists have warned that being catapulted from a plane going more than 250 miles-per hour would cause severe if not fatal injuries, Sgt. Victor James and Capt. Vincent Mazza, both 32, have proved the scientists wrong. During a recent test of an emergency ejection chair over San Pablo bay, near San Francisco, Calif., the men were individually catapulted from a plane doing 535 m.p.h. In the photo, Capt. Mazza is shown being shot from the plane. His seat is barely above the edge of the fast moving plane.

A PUBLIC STATEMENT by the Industry Labour Negotiating Committee of the Fruit Industry

1. Recent reports indicate that the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions are considering the taking of a strike vote among the Employees of those Packinghouses in which they are the Certified Bargaining Authority.

2. The only item in dispute between the Unions and ourselves at this time is the matter of a "modified form of Union Shop" under which a number of our more experienced workers would be FORCED to join the Union, after a specified time, or lose their jobs.

3. We feel it should be the right of every man to earn a living without surrendering his right to join or not to join a Union, as he sees fit. If the Union serves the workers well, it should not be difficult to enlist membership. It should NOT be the duty of the EMPLOYER to COERCE his employees into Union membership.

4. The fruit packing industry of the Okanagan has been extremely fair with their employees and the Union, and this contention is confirmed by the following statement issued by the Union just prior to 1948 negotiations:

"Since 1940 the Fruit and Vegetable Workers Unions have been making gains in wages of 113% for men and 103% for women, as well as grievance procedure clauses, seniority clauses, safety and health clauses, holiday with pay clauses, recess clauses and hours of work clauses (reducing the hours of work from a seven-day-four hour week to a fifty-four hour week in the busy season and a forty-four hour week in the off season), time-and-a-half for all Sundays and Saturday holidays, and a 5% premium for all night workers on night shift. Our officers and membership have plenty to be proud of during the past six years of progress. All these gains have been brought about without one hour being lost to the workers due to strikes."

5. The fruit packing industry of the Okanagan is the only industry of its kind in Canada that is unionized. We pay by far the highest wage rates, have the shortest hours of work, the greatest vacation allowance and more favourable working conditions than granted by our competitors in any other fresh fruit section of Canada.

6. It is well known that the most serious tie-ups and jurisdictional disputes in the fresh fruit industry of United States during the past year, have been in those few areas where Union Shops and Closed Shops have made their appearance, namely Salinas and Watsonville, California, and the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

7. Our Unions already have a greater measure of Union security than applicable in many of the more specialized industries. In fact, when the Fruit and Vegetable workers' Unions were reorganized in 1946, this industry extended such co-operation and security in the form of the Rand Award that the Unions were referred to as "Company Unions" by a competing Union, and the Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association was publicly attacked for nearly a year on the grounds that it "gave its full support and good-will to, and encouraged workers to join the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions."

8. The following is a brief list of the benefits gained by the employees, either by Agreement or by Government action, during the past ten years:

- (a) Men's basic wage rates increased from 38¢ per hour to 82¢ per hour.
- (b) Women's basic rate increased from 30¢ per hour to 66¢ per hour.
- (c) Men and women in key positions receive from 5¢ to 12¢ per hour higher than the above rates.
- (d) Time and one-half for work done on Sundays and Statutory holidays, as compared with straight time in 1939.
- (e) Time and a half for work over 9 hours, and double time for work over 11 hours, (during the busy season) as compared with straight time in 1939.
- (f) Time and a half for work over 8 hours per day, or 44 hours per week (during the off season).
- (g) Annual vacations with pay for hourly workers.
- (h) Exemption from Workmen's Compensation Board assessments. (These now paid entirely by employer).
- (i) Unemployment Insurance. (Approximately 50% of Premiums paid by employer).
- (j) Maintenance of membership. (Union Security).
- (k) Rand Award with compulsory check-off. (Union Security).
- (l) 5% Premium for night-shift work.
- (m) 5¢ per hour Premium for working in cold storage.
- (n) Improvement in working conditions, such as heated grader rooms.
- (o) We have recently indicated our acceptance of the recommendation of the Conciliation Board to grant two weeks vacation with pay to permanent employees with five years or more service.

9. A tie-up of this highly-perishable-commodities industry, at this time could be of serious consequence to the economy of the whole Valley. We hope that no-one is prepared to accept the responsibility for such a loss.

William Embrey has joined the staff of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., as a "liaison" officer between the fruit growers, shippers and the sales agency, A. K. Loyd, president and general manager, announced this week.

At the last two B.C.F.G.A. conventions, resolutions asked for an experienced man to encourage closer contact between the three groups. Mr. Embrey will take over his new duties in September.

He is well-known in the Okanagan, having resided here for some time prior to the war and before joining the R.C.A.F. in 1940, he was B.C. manager for Goodwin-Simons Ltd., a prominent fruit importing firm in the United Kingdom.

START YOUNGSTER'S FINANCIAL CAREER WITH ONE DOLLAR

Early Years Are Best In Forming Steady Savings Habit

To your youngster a dollar means more now than it will in later life. If he can retain this youthful respect for money as he matures, he will be likely to form lifelong habits of wise spending and regular saving. As countless "success-stories" show, these habits are of vital assistance in career-building and happy living.

You can impress these important traits on your child's mind by using a simple method. Thousands of Canadian parents have employed it successfully. You just give your youngster a dollar to start a Bank of Montreal savings account. You encourage him to save from his pocket money for some of the things he wants. Thus, you help him to help himself, and he achieves patience and purposefulness.

Why not send him around to the B of M to open his account tomorrow? Walter Hotson, local branch manager, and his staff will be glad to assist your youngster to start his own "success-story."

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO PARK IN PAST YEAR

Low Lying Areas Have Been Filled in and Seeded Since 1948 Show

HIGH LAKE LEVEL
Aquatic Officials Staged Last Year's Regatta Under Difficult Circumstances

Regatta spectators this year noticed a big improvement in the City Park over last year. A year ago the lake was high and the lower spots in the park were stagnant pools, simply because the lake was higher than some sections of the park.

Last year, indeed, a considerable portion of the main drive to the Aquatic from Abbott Street was under water. It was not until a few days before the Regatta itself that the city built this section up with gravel. The fills did not make for an attractive driveway last year, but this year they have been worked down and are in good shape.

Last year, too, many of the lawn sections were under water. There was not much that could be done about them then, but they have been filled with earth this year and planted and again are growing luxuriant grass.

The water affected many park trees and some died and had to be taken out.

At Regatta time last year the bowling green was under water, the parking area was a quagmire, the athletic oval was soggy. At the Aquatic itself, high water presented a problem. At one time in June it appeared that the Regatta would have to be cancelled. The lake, indeed, was right over the lower floor of the pavilion.

However, walks were built and platforms made and the show went on, under difficulties it is true, but it went on. It was not the water under foot that caused the trouble last year, it was the water which continued to pour down from the skies.

Ideal Weather Prevails as K.A.R.T. And Aquatic Club Jointly Sponsor Another Successful Aquacade Show

Spotlighting mid-week entertainment and a delightful and promising force-runner to the world famous Regatta this week, was last Thursday evening's aquacade show and band concert, staged by K.A.R.T. and the Aquatic Association.

A weekly affair, the show again attracted hundreds of people with its newer and better feature attractions. Members of the city band started off the two hour water show with rousing martial airs and other popular numbers. The sports got underway with an exciting and closely contested mixed medley relay race between lifeguards, swimming club and rowing club, with two boys and one woman representative on each team.

The rowing club team got off to a swimming class in a mock a good start with Miss Margaret teaching lesson, showing how the Hutton, famous rhythmic swimmer, led off in the back stroke. At least two or three lengths ahead of her nearest contestant, Miss Alice dePuyffer of the swimming club, fully across the pool, to give her team mate Ken Reeves and advantageous lead over opponents Don McKenzie and John Kitson. Jane Stirling was feminine representative for the lifeguards.

Swimming the breaststroke back across the pool, Don McKenzie slowly began closing the distance between himself and Ken Reeves, arriving at the other end with little over a length's difference between the two swimmers. However, in the final lap, Roger Tait's spread out racing dive brought him dangerously close to rowing club's Jimmy Stewart. From then on the swimming club took the lead and came in first, followed closely by the rowing club and the lifeguards.

In the absence of Roger Tait, Jane Stirling, Aquatic lifeguard John Kitson raced Don McKenzie in the men's open 50 yards breaststroke to finish an extremely close second to the swimming club's star swimmer.

Unfortunately, the second war canoe had not arrived back from the previous day's races at Penticton, so the previously scheduled war canoe race had to be knocked off the evening's roster. However, one crew of girls practising for the Regatta, put on a very nice display of paddling during the evening.

Girls 100 yards freestyle race, always a popular feature, this week saw four contestants swimming twice the length of the pool. Perhaps the most amazing feature of this race was the way one contestant, Mary McKenzie, swam breaststroke in a freestyle race and kept up with her opponents. However, the strain of the fast pace told and unfortunately she had to drop out, leaving the way clear for Alice dePuyffer to come in first followed by Carol Dunaway and Lillian Scantland.

Meanwhile two shell doubles were lining up by Manhattan Point to start off their half mile race. Ray Bostock and Alan Moore, with the strenuous and tiring race over their opponents Dave Paulson and Gib Wade.

An exhibition of diving by Betty Foss and Dave Harrop relieved the tense excitement brought about by the closely contested and exciting races.

In the men's open 100 yards freestyle race, diminutive Roger Tait surprisingly forged swiftly ahead of his muscular opponent Herb Capozzi in the last lap to win.

A new and novel feature added to last week's Aquacade was a cock-fight staged between two teams, the swimming club and the rowing club. Each member had another on his shoulders and had to push the opposing couple into the water, crying for jewelry and scarf decoration. Sleeves are long, tight and slenderizing, or casually pushed up to wherever the wearer likes. Pockets—large and small—are everywhere.

Fabrics, playing the star role in style news this fall, offer a range from stiff to supple, from transparent to opaque textures; taffeta, satin, faille, or velvet, jersey, silk; net to broadcloth.

Trends for next fall and winter come in four distinct categories, dresses, coats and suits, sportswear and millinery.

Fabrics and colors are the important news in this fall's dresses. The silhouette trend is slimmer, but controlled fullness will add up to the majority silhouette from casual to dressy types. Details as velvet touches, jutting pockets, draped molding are tremendously important since there is no big silhouette change.

Side-swept or asymmetric is the outstanding development in slim dresses. This is carried out in all leading fabrics; jersey, tweed and featherweight, ribbed crepes, taffeta and satin novelties. Panels continue as a big influence, best when subtly adapted. Casual, an outstanding trend throughout ready to wear, is most significant for dresses and sportswear.

The fall and winter season of 1949-50 will be remembered for the trend toward elegance in millinery achieved through the simple manipulation and draping of the silhouettes. Contrary to the fall previous when the beret spotlighted all promotions over a long period, this autumn opens up with a wide variety of silhouettes... turbans, tricornes, manipulated small hat, dashing wide brims, pillbox and beret.

Most important from the standpoint of the silhouette is the turban which returns with the tremendous fashion vitality as a morn-till-night fashion. This is in great part due

No Drastic Style Changes Forecast for Fall, Winter By Leading Manufacturers

By JOAN GRIMMETT

With more apparent luck than the weather bureau, large manufacturing houses have forecast styles and fashions for fall and winter long before the hot summer weather is over.

A recent release by one such merchandising department of a women's wear publication predicts there will be no drastic change in styles as has happened during the past few years, but that on the whole autumn and winter fashions will be modified, more graceful replicas of basic fashions set in the last year.

American manufacturers have outdone themselves this season in providing a wide variety of wearable, flattering clothes for all types of figures and all types of occasions.

While there is no radical change in the silhouette for the fall and winter of 1949-50, there is a range of selection that has been unequalled in many years. The planned casual look emerges as the outstanding trend for the coming year from sportswear to formal clothes.

Low Neckline This year skirt fullness is more controlled. Gone are the voluminous, tent-like skirts of the past couple of seasons. Instead this year's skirt silhouettes range from restrained fullness to very slim, with the side-swept or asymmetric line featured in the slim variety. Necklines are low on the shoulders, or are close up at the throat, crying for jewelry and scarf decoration. Sleeves are long, tight and slenderizing, or casually pushed up to wherever the wearer likes. Pockets—large and small—are everywhere.

Contrary to the fall previous when the beret spotlighted all promotions over a long period, this autumn opens up with a wide variety of silhouettes... turbans, tricornes, manipulated small hat, dashing wide brims, pillbox and beret.

Most important from the standpoint of the silhouette is the turban which returns with the tremendous fashion vitality as a morn-till-night fashion. This is in great part due to the acceptance of the short hair-do for which the turban has a strong affinity. Very newswy is the tricornes featured both in Paris and New York.

Feather Trimmings Materials that have lush textures add up to the season's elegance. Melusine, velvet, hatter's plush, panne velvet and long fleece materials all contribute richness.

In trimmings, it is feathers and jeweled embroideries... the former in all sorts of lovely fancies for width, in subtle color combinations. Embroideries are partial or all-over, richly jeweled but always in designs of excellent taste. Colors include the beige and gray family, called "Gazelle" colors because of the African influence launched by Adrian... star sapphires, tea green, pink amethyst, mauve, chamois. The red family in rich middle register tones; much stark black and pure white. The vibrant blues are also good and there is tango and rust.

Manufactures have also found that it's the short fur coat by a ratio of five to one which is the big trend in fall-winter collections. Short means anything from 30 to 40 inches. Long averages from 45 to 47 inches.

Shoulders are easy... big, heavy shoulder pads are out. Collars are small, frame the face becomingly. Sleeves are wide and open at the bottom. They're cut so that they slip over bulky tweed suits. Coats have ample flare... four flare is the biggest sweep suggested. Five and six flares are out.

Gerard Cathcart, of Nelson, is spending a week in this city, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bridges.

HAIRLESS NOGGIN HELPS

As in the previous evening's performance, a group of rhythmic swimmers trained by Miss Margaret Hutton traced a patriotic finale. Clad in turquoise bathing suits and white caps, the girls filed onto the platform on either side of the stage and gracefully slid into the water, swimming in time to soft strains from the orchestra into a pattern interwoven with stripes of red, white and blue bunting to form a patriotic insignia.

Comedy Diver

Jack Henderson, famous Seattle comedy diver, characterized some of the more proficient and graceful divers of the afternoon in his hilarious routine of really amazing stunts. Clad in a disreputable bathing costume which he shed little by little as his act progressed, Mr. Henderson was a popular feature of the evening show.

North American ornamental swimming champion, Miss Margaret Hutton, who arrived in the city only two weeks ago to train a number of local girls in the art of rhythmic swimming, led her contingent in the graceful and entirely beautiful forms of an intricate water ballet. Alike, the girls in turquoise bathing suits and white caps, donated by Rosemary Field, marched out onto the float to dive into the water one after another in rhythmic precision. Following their lovely little ballet number, Miss Hutton herself in a silver spangled swim suit of turquoise blue, gracefully slipped into the pool to perform an intricate routine, without using her feet at all, an amazingly difficult feat. Climaxing her act was her astonishing submergence with only her legs at right angles to her body above water. Flood lights, spotlighting the pool, enabled members of the audience to see the swimmers under water as well as when they were swimming above.

A dangerous and difficult diving feat was then performed by local girl Miss Betty Foss, who gracefully leapt from the high board of the diving tower in a perfect swan dive, landing in a pool of flame spread in the water.

Climaxing the evening's entertainment and highlighting the two day festivities was the Lady-of-the-Lake pageant.

Treasure Island was complete with sand dunes, palm trees and a little grass hut. As emcee Herb Capozzi cast the mystic spell of tropical evenings by recounting the mysterious and exciting tales of this treasure island, one by one the inhabitants of the island paraded before the bewildered gaze of the audience from the little grass hut.

Queen of the Island was Miss Jeannette Ollerich, 1940 Lady-of-the-Lake, attended by her princess. Then one by one, contestants for this year's title filed on, taking their stands on either side of the raised queen's dais. Meanwhile judges Mrs. Mary Treadgold, Terry Bennett, artist and designer of the treasure island, and Frank Royal, photographer who during his army career was chief photographer for the Mediterranean theatre, paddled about in a rowboat trying to choose from the twenty-four contestants, the one most worthy to reign over the 1950 Regatta.

Eliminations narrowed down to three, Joyce Reinhold, as "Miss Gyro," Jean Ross, as "Miss Labor," and Alana Bertelson as "Miss Vernon Junior Chamber of Commerce." However, as the three gracefully paraded the island, the judges reached a decision. But wait. Not yet was the suspense relieved. Instead a boatload of blood-thirsty pirates, complete with sabers and sashes, captured the lovely desert island and began searching for the long lost treasure reported to be buried many years past somewhere among the drifting sands.

As you may have guessed, as coins and chests were uncovered, in view, the new Lady-of-the-Lake was dragged forth.

Grand Finale
 Miss Jean Ross, dark, vivacious and winsome, was unanimously chosen as 1950 Lady-of-the-Lake, exchanging her Miss Labour insignia for the more regal title, Lady-of-the-Lake.

A grand finale climaxed the brilliant evening show with a smart contingent of drum majorettes in turquoise and white costumes and pillbox hats once again leaped into the pool to display a delightful exhibition of graceful rhythmic swimming climaxing in a patriotic theme.

Members of the Kelowna Jaycees presented Lady-of-the-Lake Miss Jean Ross with a beautiful set of matched travelling cases while Princesses Joyce Reinhold and Alana Bertelson received hand bags.

Other Contestants
 List of contestants in order of their appearance was as follows: Shirley Arnold, "Miss Lions"; Jerri Garon, "Miss Lake Chelan"; Emily Gutfriend, "Miss Kelowna Teen Town"; Mary Wilson, "Miss Gray's Apparel"; Elizabeth Reece, "Miss Kinsmen"; Jean Mills, "Miss Y"; Men, "Dorothy"; "Miss Elk"; Dianne Wilcox, "Miss Aquatic Auxiliary"; Ina Salmon, "Miss Victoria Y.M.C.A."; Diane Tickell, "Miss Pentiction Teen Town"; Pat Clark, "Miss Adelphi"; Dorothy Skelton, "Miss Kelowna J.C.C."; Joan Morgan, "Miss Phalanx Club"; Ruth Read, "Miss Salmon Army"; Pat Meehan, "Miss Wenatchee"; Jill Cookson, "Miss Kelowna Aquatic"; Louise Weddell, "Miss Osbyos"; Joyce Reinhold, "Miss Gyro"; Anne Winter, "Miss V.S.C."; Jean Ross, "Miss Labour"; Carole Stanton, "Miss K.A.A.A."; June Cornwall, "Miss Sweet Sixteen"; Alana Bertelson, "Miss Vernon J.C.C."; Miss Ruth Nesbitt, "Miss Summerland J.C.C."

More About 6 VANCOUVER'S MAYOR

 known coach of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, for special tribute, Mr. Ballie said: "He deserved more credit than he has received."

Deplores Begging
 Roy Ashworth, national president of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, deplored the "tin-hat" attitude required to send Canadian athletes to the major meet. "Until such times as the government, civic bodies and everybody gets behind us (athletes) the Canadian flag will not be on top."

He revealed Canada was now considered sending representatives to the 1951 Pan-American games, but such an endeavour was unlikely, due to the "lack of funds."

Press Support
 He wondered how the press supported the Kelowna Regatta "so marvelously." "We can't get that kind of support in the east," he concluded.

Put Slattery, Vancouver Sun sports writer and columnist, supplied the answer later in the evening when he spoke on behalf of the press. "The community effort and the spirit of the thing behind it that gets the support of the press," he explained.

A moment later, J. W. B. Browne, manager of radio station CKOV, Kelowna, chortled he was "dejected to death to finally have the Kelowna Regatta broadcast over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network."

Others who spoke briefly during the traditional Kelowna Board of Trade banquet were Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna; Dick Parkinson, Regatta manager; O. Clappitt, Vernon, the Regatta's official starter; Percy Norman, VASC coach; Archie McKinnon, former Olympic coach and coach of the Victoria Y.M.C.A.; Dave Leckie, president of the Kelowna Rowing Club; G. N. Stacey, former president of the Vancouver Rowing Club and one of the province's greatest boosters for rowing; Bill Thompson, "Mr. Wimple" and their stands on either side of the raised queen's dais. Meanwhile judges Mrs. Mary Treadgold, Terry Bennett, artist and designer of the treasure island, and Frank Royal, photographer who during his army career was chief photographer for the Mediterranean theatre, paddled about in a rowboat trying to choose from the twenty-four contestants, the one most worthy to reign over the 1950 Regatta.

Head Table Guests
 Fred Gibson, president of the Kelowna Board of Trade, was chairman of the banquet. Early in the proceedings he turned the gavel over to Dr. Anderson, to bring up the guest speakers.

Those at the head table and introduced to the overflow gathering were: Mr. Blair; Mr. Ashworth; Mr. Ballie; W. A. Egan; Kelowna M.P. for South Okanagan; Commodore Thompson; Dr. Anderson; Bill Thompson; Bernard Allen, general superintendent, C.N.R., B.C. region; Mayor Hughes-Games; J. DeHart, president, Western chamber of Commerce; R. P. Parkinson, Kelowna, Regatta manager, and W. McRae, superintendent of the Bank of Montreal.

LOCAL POLICE FIND CRIME AT LOW EBB

Even from the standpoint of crime—or lack of it—this year's Kelowna Regatta was another "outstanding success."
 "We didn't have an arrest in connection with the Regatta until three o'clock yesterday afternoon," said Sgt. R. B. McKay, NCO in charge of the Kelowna detachment, B.C. Police.
 Taken into custody at that time was a drunk, sprawled across the sidewalk at Mill Avenue and Bernard. By the time daylight rolled around this morning six others—two men and four women—were jailed on intoxication charges.
 "No major crime and no serious accidents," observed the police head.

Stolen bicycles head the list of minor complaints turned over to police. Theft of personal papers from a hotel, a camera from a bike and several articles lost were reported to police during the two-day gala.

Minor damage was caused to two cars during the record auto cavalcade to the airport opening Monday night. One auto received about $25 fender damage, while the other, Richard Klaws, Rutland, suffered slight roof damage when it struck loose gravel and rolled off the road.

Oddest police find during the Regatta was a suffed owl. It was picked up by Constable Don Tweedhope in front of The Kelowna Courier office early this morning.

Haynes, in an old car, which police said had no brakes, struck an auto driven by Peter C. McLean, 615 Rowell Avenue, causing damage estimated at $125 to McLean's car. Damage to Haynes' auto was negligible.

Failure to stop at stop signs in the city cost V. J. Curran and M. McSutherland $5 and costs in city police court July 28.

Missing...

FOR the first time in 45 years a familiar name is missing from this page. It is the name of a firm that has become a "byword" in a host of homes throughout the Okanagan Valley, particularly in Kelowna and District.

Much has transpired in 45 eventful years: two world wars, 43 Regattas, momentous happenings everywhere. With it has come the planned progress of alert pioneers and a city beautiful known far and wide for its incomparable community spirit.

GEO. A. MEIKLE LTD. has contributed greatly to such civic success and, with Kelowna, has grown great in stature and renown. We miss their presence in this corner today, as if an old friend had departed from our family circle. But there is a reason for such absence, for the fact that for the first time in 2,340 weeks there is no advertisement for "Meikle's in this, their own familiar corner.

But they'll be back!

Approximately August 26th will see the opening of a new and greater Meikle's, a modern shopping centre for a growing community. Watch for it! Meanwhile, we say, 45 years is a long time to "go steady" and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to the Management and Staff of Geo. A. Meikle Ltd.

We like your company!

This corner is reserved—for you.
